VACATION SECURITY CHECKLIST

Thieves look for “TARGETS of OPPORTUNITY”. There are many things you can do to avoid becoming a victim when you are going to be away. Mainly, try to give the illusion you are home.

- Call Duty Officer (843-720-2426) to have house placed on “Keep-a-Check” list. Officers can check this list on car-computers.
- Have Deadbolt Locks installed on all exterior doors
- Keep an inventory list and photos of all serial numbered items, engrave them with your Drivers License Number, to help get them back.
- Double-check ALL windows and doors (basements, bathrooms, kitchens)
- Leave a car in the driveway
- Use timers for Exterior AND Interior lights, TVs, stereos, etc.
- Tell a trusted neighbor about plans, leave emergency contacts and a key. Ask them to check the house and call Police if they see people around.
- Limit how many people you tell of your plans. Word may spread.
- Cancel newspapers, have mail held, or at least ask the neighbor to bring them in for you. If leaving for a week, have them put the trash can out. It is an obvious marker that you are gone.
- Upon returning, walk around the house once to look for any signs of a break-in. You don’t want to walk into a crime-in-progress. If you see something open or broken, go next door and CALL POLICE.
Do you know who is working for you?

Charleston County Website- www.charlestoncounty.org - Public Information on the internet, click on Clerk of Court, then on-line case search. You can look up an individual under Criminal Court in either Magistrates’ or General Sessions to find criminal charges, bond amounts, and conviction / sentence data. Note that a single charge may have several entries regarding different stages of court, so 5 entries might stem from only one charge. Also, common names should be verified through other identifiers before discounting someone solely on the basis of this source. You may also click on Civil Court to see if he or his company has been or is currently involved in a lawsuit. This may weigh heavily on your decision to hire them.

SLED Record Checks-via website- www.sled.sc.gov - These are often required of daycare workers, financial services employees. They cost $25 online. They require a name, birthdate (and social security number is recommended) to get interstate NCIC “rapsheets”. SLED states they can also assist through the mail.

Sex Offender Registry- www.sled.sc.gov or www.CharlestonCounty.org - This can be checked by an individual’s name or by your zip code. Be aware, however, that if you find a neighbor listed for example, you are forbidden by law to harass the person. If they are in full compliance with registry rules, any harassment, vandalism, assault or other crime a citizen commits against them will result in double penalty against the citizen.

Checking Businesses:
Better Business Bureau (bbb.org)- 843-766-9616 Has operators you can speak to, but also has an automated system that allows you to check for complaints by entering the business’ phone number, address, or name.

Contractors’ Licensing - (803)896-4686 Check on license, bonding, and insurance requirements.

SC Dept. of Labor, Licensing, and Regulation (www.llr.state.sc.us) (803)896-4686 commercial (803)896-4696 residential To verify the existence or status of a license.

S.C. Dept. of Revenue (www.sctax.org) - (803)898-5000 City of Charleston Business License office (www.charleston-sc.gov 843-724-3711). This information is provided as a public service to help reduce your risk of being victimized. For questions, call the CPD Crime Prevention Office 843-769-8254
Door to Door Solicitors

Charleston residents are reminded to be aware of door-to-door sales people, particularly “magazine sales”. Usually the concerns about these individuals are property / financial-crime related.

Tips:

1. Post a NO SOLICITING sign on your front door, and maybe another in the yard. (One at the front of the neighborhood is not enforceable)
2. DO NOT Open the door to any strangers
3. If someone claims to be from a utility or law enforcement, Request to see ID (through window) and look for an official vehicle.
4. If they are “selling” anything, know that it is perfectly fine to tell them you are not interested, to please leave
5. If you are interested, request to see their Peddler’s Permit from the City of Charleston (again through the window - see example below)

Know that solicitors are probably breaking the law if they do any of these:

1) Knock IN SPITE of a NO SOLICITING sign
2) Do Not have a City Peddler’s Permit with them (and their company is to have a Business Permit)
3) Tell you the magazine sale can be donated to be delivered to a charity (like the Boys & Girls club, etc)
4) If they use ANY High Pressure or Intimidation or will not leave

What to do:

Call Charleston Police at 743-7200, give a description of the subject and their direction of travel, so an officer can interview them. (Ask to speak to the officer so he can get more details). If they are operating within the law, you'll be advised. If not, they will be dealt with accordingly.

Example of REQUIRED PEDDLERS PERMIT.
(It is a wallet sized card, signed by Alan Horres of City Revenue Collections)
Citizens may call this voicemail to have graffiti removed from buildings, signs, walls, etc. This number WILL NOT dispatch an officer or file a report. It is for cleanup only.

Include the following:

- Your Name and Number for follow-up details
- Exact Location
- Size and Type of Graffiti
- Wording of Graffiti if Legible (profanity, threat?)
- Background Color and Surface
- Public or Private Property
- How long has it been there?

Effort will be made to remove the graffiti as soon as possible. Some may take longer than others, may be on surfaces too difficult to clean, or too dangerous to get to. If it remains longer than a week, call back and ask to be contacted.

The line is a voicemail, checked on weekdays. It is not manned. For immediate assistance, to report an in-progress vandalism, or to file a written vandalism report, call Charleston Police at 843-743-7200.
Neighborhood Crime Watch
(Crime Prevention Office – 843-769-7407)

This program is the primary focus of the Crime Prevention office. It encourages residents to become familiar with each other as well as with basic procedures for reporting crime and suspicious activity.

Neighborhood Crime Watch programs in the City of Charleston can be tailored to the needs of your community. The central requirements for being Certified as a Crime Watch in the City are that there are:

1) A primary contact person (may be the Neighborhood president, or complex manager, or Crime Watch Coordinator or Chairperson, or in the case of a small area, a single Block Captain)
2) A communication network (door-to-door, phone-tree, or e-mail), updated
3) A presentation or method of instruction (handouts, electronic, presentation to group) where the majority of residents have been instructed on Crime Prevention. This includes steps to take to deter crime around their home and street, how to recognize and report suspicious activity.
4) Commitment of Residents to Practice Prevention, adjust their habits, and actually call Police about suspicious persons and activity.

Historically we have stayed with the traditional pen & paper program of a Crime Watch Committee, Block Captains in each section, with guide booklets, Family Information Forms, phone trees, and live meetings. While we still like this format, and in some neighborhoods it is still the most practical, we are recognizing the electronic and mobile lifestyles of the majority of neighborhoods.

The traditional program of Block Captains works well but we also recognize those neighborhoods with extensive electronic communication lessening the number of volunteers involved to pass information.

While there is no substitute for live people looking out the windows or watching from the front porch, the benefits of the electronic communications are numerous. E-CrimeWatch somewhat eliminates the need for so many Block Captain volunteers, since their primary purpose was to pass on information by phone or door-to-door flyers to neighbors. E-mail, Cell and Text systems are now available to manage membership communication as well as emergency notifications and crime listings.
STAY INFORMED of CRIMES
To find out what recent crimes have occurred in your area, or to register to receive updates on recent crimes, go to the Police Department Website
www.Charleston-PD.org

1) To receive Crime Prevention messages and recent crime maps:
On the website select “NOTIFY ME” and register for BOTH “General Crime Prevention Messages” and for the messages specific to your area (Patrol Team) of the City.

2) To check Crime History of your neighborhood, street, or at a single address, or to obtain an Accident Report:
   • Go to www.Charleston-PD.org
   • Select “P2C – Police to Citizen”
This service logs crimes and vehicle accidents since September 2011, and can be searched in increments of 30 days per search. There is a tutorial on the page.

CrimeStoppers of the Lowcountry

To report crime information anonymously you can call CrimeStoppers of the Lowcountry at (843)-554-1111. You may also report it through their website at www.5541111.com (no dash-mark). Another way is by texting information to 274637, begin your message with "Tip213" to direct it to the Charleston office. All calls, e-mails, and texts are routed through encryption computers to make it impossible to trace back to you, although the computer and text versions can have 2-way communications to get more details. If an arrest results, simply re-contact, tell them your assigned tip number, and they will give you instructions how to anonymously claim the reward if one was authorized.
