Helpful hints

- Your employer puts money into your HRA and defines what medical expenses are eligible.
- Contributions made by your employer are excluded from your gross income and not taxable.
- The funds in the account are available on the first day of the plan year.
- Save your receipts when you spend your HRA dollars. You may need itemized invoices to verify the eligibility of expenses or for reimbursement requests.
- Funds that remain in your HRA at the end of the plan year may be carried over to the next year.
